Dear Prof. Ved Prakash:

As you may kindly be aware that the Department of Science and Technology (DST), Government of India, has been conducting National Surveys on regular basis to collect information on the resources devoted to Research and Development (R&D) activities in the country. The information so collected and compiled is used to bring out a number of analytical reports useful as an evidence base for policy formulation and planning of the Indian S&T sector. The latest Research & Development Statistics report brought out in the year 2013 is available at our website www.nstmis-dst.org

We are now planning to collect information for the year 2015-16 through an online survey available at www.nationalsandtsurvey.nstmis-dst.org. The same has been mailed to your research institutions/laboratories along with a unique login and password in order to ensure the authenticity of the information.

You are requested to kindly issue necessary instructions to all concerned R&D institutions/laboratories under your Ministry/Department/Council to fill and submit online information preferably within a month.

Your cooperation in this national endeavour is highly appreciated.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

(Ashutosh Sharma)
